No Hindrance By Russians

US Military Units Travel From Berlin On Autobahn

BERLIN (AP)—U.S. military units from West Berlin traveled to West Germany today on the autobahn lifeline without hindrance from the Russians, who stopped two American vehicles Sunday.

The U.S. command in Berlin described the movement as a redeployment. It said the departing units will be replaced shortly by a company of engineers, leaving the Berlin garrison at 6,500-man strength.

Seeks End To Dispute On Border

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, seeking a peaceful end to the Berlin border dispute, has decided to try to make a bargain with the Soviet Union that could involve U.S. agreement to show official identification documents to East German border police.

U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson has been instructed to make a new approach to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko early this week.

Officials said the Kennedy administration has decided that the East German demand to see identification cards of U.S. officials when they enter East Berlin does not threaten Western interests enough to bring on a shooting conflict. The British have been showing identification cards for some time.

The United States does not intend to give up its right to fly over the Communist-controlled sector.

The movement actually got under way Sunday, the Army disclosed, even as the Russians barred two U.S. military assistance vehicles from entering the autobahn from Berlin at the Babelsberg checkpoint. A third assistance vehicle later was allowed to proceed.

Western officials speculated that the Soviet action in stopping two cars while allowing a third to pass might be a calculated move. They thought the Soviets might be reasserting objections they first made in 1952-53 to American patrols on the autobahn without creating a dangerous new East-West incident. By a 1953 agreement the Soviet army admitted responsibility for security on the highway.

By halting the assistance vehicles altogether, the Soviets could have provoked the U.S. Army into another show of force to safeguard Allied rights in Berlin.

The last show of force ended in an informal truce Saturday after American and Soviet tanks had stood on either side of the Berlin wall at the Friedrichstrasse crossing point for 16 hours with their guns trained at point blank range.

The tanks were rushed up after four U.S. armed thrusts into East Berlin during the week to uphold the right of American civilian officials to cross the border without submitting identity papers to East German police.

Ag Hall of Fame Has New Field Director

KANSAS CITY (AP)—William K. Alexander of Omaha, Neb., has been named field director for the Agricultural Hall of Fame near Kansas City.

Alexander, a regional field representative for the American Farm Bureau Federation the past 10 years, assumes his new duties Nov. 1.

Dr. Oliver S. Willham, president and chairman of the Hall of Fame board and president of Oklahoma State University, said subscriptions in cash and pledges for the Hall of Fame are approaching one million dollars. The eventual goal is $6 million.

1,700 Persons At Gate-Closing At Hermitage

HERMITAGE, Mo. (AP)—The new $15,300,000 dam across the Pomme de Terre River began impounding water Sunday and an Army engineer said the 8,000-acre reservoir should be filled in a year.

About 1,700 persons attended a gate-closing ceremony at the 153-foot high dam, which was started in 1956 three miles south of Hermitage.

Maj. Kenneth M. Hatch, assistant Kansas City district Army engineer, told the group: "Within a short time improvements will be under way in public use areas. The dam, built primarily for flood control and water conservation, will provide an 8,000-acre lake which should give enjoyment to many thousands of persons each year."

"Already the area is beginning to reflect the beneficial aspects which are bound to multiply as more and more visitors come."

Other speakers were state Sen. Thomas G. Woolsey of Versailles and Stanley Fike, administrative assistant to Sen. Stuart Symington.

Kennedy Ups Estimate On Fiscal Budget

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has increased his budget estimate for this fiscal year to $89 billion and expects $6.9 billion in red ink spending. The new estimates raise the virtual certainty that his next budget will cross the $90-billion mark.

Nevertheless, Kennedy's autumn budget review again assured taxpayers that the fiscal 1963 budget, to be sent to Congress in January, will be balanced—barring extraordinary and unforeseen defense requirements. Fiscal 1962 is the current government year, which ends next June 30.

The third and latest Kennedy revision of the 1962 budget, originally drafted last January by outgoing President Dwight D. Eisenhower, was issued Sunday. Eisenhower had forecast a shaky $1.5-billion surplus.

Stalin's Body On Way Out

Red Congress OK's Removal From the Tomb

MOSCOW (AP)—Five thousand cheering delegates and officials at the Soviet Communist party congress voted today to remove the body of Joseph Stalin from its place beside Lenin in the big tomb on Red Square.

The congress action came in the wake of speeches by Premier Khrushchev and others denouncing the longtime Soviet dictator as a murderer and instigator of mass repression against Communist and army leaders. Khrushchev said as a result of Stalin's purges, the Soviet army's efficiency was at a low ebb at the time of the German attack in 1941.

The mausoleum, which thousands visit each day, was suddenly closed Sunday "for repairs," a police guard on duty there said.

The name of Stalin, put alongside Lenin's on the tomb when his embalmed body was placed there in 1953, will be removed. The monument now will bear the name of the founder of modern-day communism, Vladimir Ilyich Lenin.

There was no immediate announcement where the embalmed body of Stalin will be placed.

The proposal for the removal was made in the congress in the Kremlin by Ivan Spiridonov, first secretary of the party in the Leningrad region.

May Have Been Over 50-Megaton

UPPSALA, Sweden (AP)—Scandinavian scientists reported today that the Soviet Union set off its 50-megaton hydrogen bomb—or possibly one even bigger—in the biggest man-made blast in history.

Dr. Marcus A. Baath of the Uppsala Seismological Institution said the explosion recorded there was "more than 2½ times as strong" as last Monday's blast, which was estimated in the range of 30 megatons.

A megaton has the force of one million tons of TNT, and a 50-megaton bomb would be 2,500 times as powerful as the first U.S. atomic bomb exploded over Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

Claim Reds Push World To Disaster

Reds Say Tests Are Intended To Stop Atomic War

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson today accused the Soviet Union of pushing the world toward disaster by exploding its massive superbomb. The Soviet Union retorted that the current tests were intended to prevent the United States from launching a nuclear war.

The clash occurred in the General Assembly's main political committee, where Soviet Delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin cited the critical Berlin situation as the reason for the current series of Soviet nuclear tests, including today's explosion of a bomb said to surpass 50 megatons.

"Any moment war can start," Tsarapkin declared.

Stevenson charged that the Soviet Union had shown cynical disregard for the United Nations and its appeal to the Kremlin not to test a 50-megaton bomb approved last Friday night by a vote of 87-11.

Tsarapkin quoted at length from Premier Khrushchev's statement explaining the Soviet government's reasons for going against world opinion to carry out the bomb tests. Then he added:

"In order to prevent a nuclear and rocket war, all measures must be taken. And one of these measures which can prevent you from launching a nuclear weapons war is to increase the defensive position of the Soviet Union. This is why we do it."

Stevenson said there was no justification for the explosion of the gigantic bomb except "for intimidation."

"If this is what Mr. Tsarapkin calls Soviet realism," the chief U.S. delegate said, "then God help us all to escape from Russian realism."

Stevenson launched his attack on the Soviet Union as soon as the 103-nation committee convened.

He told the committee today's test apparently was even larger than the 50 megatons expected.

"Today, Mr. Chairman, the world has taken a great leap backward toward anarchy and disaster," Stevenson said.

Sunbathers Change Name to 'Naturists'

Rocky Mountain States Hit By Wintry Blasts

DENVER (AP) — Six persons were dead and six others were missing today in the wake of a storm that brought wind, rain, snow and cold to the Rocky Mountain states.

Up to two feet of snow blanketed parts of Wyoming and Colorado, halting traffic and stranding scores of hunters and motorists. Winds in gusts up to 55 miles an hour ripped across southwest Wyoming, sculpturing snowdrifts eight feet high. East of Rock Springs, Wyo., on busy U.S. Highway 30, 53 big trucks were stalled or jackknifed across the icy road.

Four deaths—three in Wyoming, one in Colorado—resulted from traffic accidents on treacherous roads.

The heaviest snowfall, more than 24 inches, was reported at 7,805-foot South Pass City in west central Wyoming. The village was virtually isolated. Snowplows couldn't keep pace with the storm. Fourteen inches of snow fell at West Yellowstone, Mont., at the western edge of Yellowstone National Park.

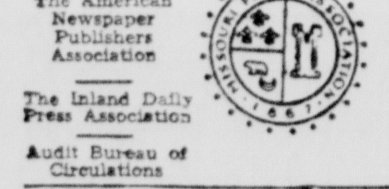

From one to six inches of snow fell in the lower elevations of Colorado and Wyoming. Denver had five inches.

Labor Leader Asks Support Of Junior College Program

The role played by organized labor in obtaining increased Missouri State aid to Junior Colleges was brought out by John I. Rolling, St. Louis, president of the Missouri State Labor Council (AFL-CIO) at a meeting in Sedalia Saturday night.

Rolling stated that organized labor in Missouri was instrumental in obtaining the increased aid by constantly reminding local labor groups throughout the state of the importance attached to Junior Colleges, and urging local groups to let their legislators know they were behind the movement.

Through this concerted effort of organized labor, the State Legislature in the past session enacted legislation to provide for more Junior Colleges throughout the state, Rolling stated.

Rolling pointed out that organized labor, and the state in general, will benefit from Junior Colleges in two ways. He pointed out that Junior Colleges should provide a two-year, terminal type of program, and not a type of

Navy Will Make Long Waste Haul

HONOLULU (AP) — The Navy will conduct history's longest "garbage collection" to assure strict American adherence to a new international treaty involving ice-capped Antarctica, it was reported today.

Radioactive wastes from two nuclear power reactors to be built in the world's coldest continent will be picked up, perhaps twice a year, by ships from the United States. These nuclear ashes will be hauled to the United States for burial in special underground nuclear cemeteries—or disposed of in shielded containers at sea.

Roundtrips for collecting this component of the "garbage" of the atomic age will be about 24,000 miles, said Capt. Edward Conrad of the office of the chief of naval operations, who stopped here en route to the antarctic.

Source of the garbage will be a reactor near the coast of the continent and another deep inland, designed to furnish light, heat and power for two key American installations.

The need to haul away the wastes arises from a treaty under which 12 nations, including the United States and the Soviet Union, pledged to preserve Antarctica for peaceful scientific purposes only.

Nuclear weapons tests are banned. The conducting of nuclear explosions for peaceful purposes—and the dumping of radioactive wastes—also are banned, at least until some international control agreement is reached.

Conrad told about the garbage collection in an interview as a plane carrying a contingent of newsmen stopped here en route to the seventh annual Navy-National Science Foundation expedition to Antarctica.

Conrad is heading for the antarctic to inspect the site and building preparations to house the first reactor at McMurdo Sound on the Ross Sea.

The reactor, slated to generate 1.5 million watts of power, enough to power a village of 1,500 persons, is to be hauled to McMurdo in prefabricated sections on the Navy cargo ship Arctek, leaving Davisville, R.I., next week. The reactor was built by the Martin Company of Baltimore.

It is due to reach the Antarctic around Dec. 15 and begin generating nuclear energy in March of next year.

The second reactor is to be located at the Byrd station only 700 miles from the South Pole. Shipment is planned for late 1963, with initial operation in March 1964.

Picked Mrs. Gunter Jaycee Wives Name VP For State District Five

Mrs. Stanley Gunter, Sedalia, was elected vice-president of District 5, of the Jaycee Wives at the state convention of the Jaycee Wives held here Friday, Saturday and Sunday, and Mrs. Bill Huhman, Sedalia, was elected state project chairman.

The convention started Friday

ELECTED — Mrs. Stanley V. Gunter, 1210 Sue Lane, was elected vice president of District Five, Missouri Jaycee Wives Club at the board meeting held here over the weekend.

night when the women joined their husbands, at a mixer held at Convention Hall.

On Saturday morning the Sedalia Jaycee Wives were hostesses to the visitors with a coffee held in the Ambassador Room at the Bothwell Hotel. At 10 a. m. they attended the forum "Operation Alert" at the Fox Theatre with their husbands.

From 11 to 12 forums were held in the Ambassador Room and the Green Room at the hotel with a feature of the program being a book review by Mrs. Dick Thomas, Sedalia, of the book: "Young Men Can Change the World," which is the heart-warming story of the Jaycee movement. The author of the book is Boon Henden who gives a vivid picture of the Jaycees and the efforts put forth by them. Mrs. Thomas stated that anyone interested in this book may contact her.

The highlight of the Jaycee Wives convention was the luncheon served at 12:30 p. m. Saturday at the Sacred Heart Cafeteria. The luncheon tables were very colorful carrying out the Halloween theme. At each place were grinning jack-o'-lanterns filled with "loot" and the glasses were covered with clever Casper ghosts. The ghosts were designed and most of them were made by Mrs. Bob Heins, who painted on the appealing face of Casper. She was assisted by several other wives of Jaycees. Casper held the placecards and this was fine for the people who were to have placecards but when it came to the others, the women wondered what to put on the cards, they just didn't know the names of all who were to be present and it would have been a jumble of trying to find places anyway with so many, so they wrote on the cards exactly what any ghost would be expected to say which was: "Boo." Beautiful arrangements of chrysanthemums were on all of the tables. The programs were circles of black paper on which "A Ball in the Fall" was outlined in white cotton.

The guest speaker at the luncheon was Harold Barrick, Sedalia, president of the United Cerebral Palsy of Missouri, who gave a talk on "Cerebral Palsy."

Later in the meeting, when the project for the state was chosen the women at the convention voted to have as this year's project "Cerebral Palsy Fund" and this will be voted on later by members of the organization over the state.

The invocation was given by Mrs. Frankye Woodruff, Rolla, state chaplain with Mrs. Allen Hawkins, president of the Sedalia Jaycee Wives, giving the welcome.

Mrs. Jean Myer, Chillicothe, state president, presided over the meeting and introduced the guests at the head table.

The travel trophy went to the Hermann Jaycee Wives for 1700 miles. Door prizes were donated by local merchants and Sedalia Jaycee Wives some of which they made and some they bought.

The presentation of charters was made by the extension chairman, Mrs. Susan Miller, Springfield, to the following clubs: Desoto, Monett, Neosho, Platte City, Webb City and Webster Groves. Holden did not receive a charter but was extended and that charter will be presented later at St. Louis.

The meeting adjourned with repeating the Jaycee Creed.

Saturday night the Jaycee Wives joined their husbands for the cocktail party and later a banquet at Smith-Cotton High School.

Sunday morning a coffee was held in the Ambassador Room of the Bothwell and the business of the convention was completed.

Taylor Arrives To Complete Report to JFK

MANILA (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor arrived today to complete a report to President Kennedy that informants said is expected to advise against sending American combat troops to Communist-threatened South Viet Nam.

Kennedy's military adviser and his aides went into seclusion at the Philippine mountain resort city of Baguio after his fact-finding mission to Southeast Asia. Sources with Taylor's party emphasized the general has reached no final decisions but said the odds appeared against his recommending movement of American troops into the troubled area—at least at the present time.

Mother, Daughter Banquet At East Baptist Church

Mrs. Sherman Bridgeman, wife of a Harmony Association Missionary told Girl's Auxiliary members of the qualities they would need to seek if they were to "hitch their wagon to a star." Every girl wishes to achieve popularity, influence, beauty, success and wealth. If they fasten their future to the bright and morning star these stars may be achieved but will not be the goal," she said. "Popularity is achieved by being one's own self. The girl who keeps her body healthy and clean may be plain in features but will have inward beauty. Intelligence is much more than the ability to quote facts — it is the ability to apply them."

The occasion was a Mother and Daughter banquet held Monday evening at the East Sedalia Baptist Church. Mrs. Joe Waters, G.A. director, was in charge of the arrangements and program. The theme was "Hitch Your Wagon to A Star," with decorations, menu, program, booklets and the program itself carrying out the theme.

Tables were decorated with white and yellow flowers in small green wagons hitched to gold stars by white ribbons. Green and yellow candles and nut cups of white stars on a green background were used. Glittering stars of silver, gold and green were hanging from the ceiling, with a

Mark Twain PTA Hears Mrs. Wallace

"Model Parent and Family Life Class," was the title of the program at the meeting of Mark Twain PTA held Thursday evening, at 7:30 in the school auditorium, with Mrs. J. R. Wallace, chairman of the regular discussion each month, as the speaker.

Mrs. Jim Yount welcomed the large group of parents, teachers and friends, and the devotional was led by Mrs. C. E. Van Horn, pointing out that each had a contribution to peace and should not set standards for others to follow we could not follow ourselves.

In the playlet were: rabbit, Gail Coffman; squirrel, Jeff Wilson; porcupine, Gregg Moyer, groundhog, Larry Walter, mother rabbit, Cynde Van Horn, red bird, Christy Sanders; duck, Debbie McMillan and the reader, Catherine Ann Gardner. The other members of the second grades made up the chorus.

After the business session Jack Delph, principal of the school, made several announcements, pointing out Nov. 5 to 10 is National Education Week and invited and encouraged all parents to visit their child's class room for 15 minutes to see the class in progress.

Owen Fox will organize a 4-H Club in Mark Twain on Monday, Oct. 30.

Mrs. David Eisenstein gave a brief report on the Golden Jubilee Convention which she and Mrs. Ralph Hodges attended in St. Louis last week.

The Pattern Is Distinct

Cheddi Jagan, newly elected prime minister of British Guiana, entertains Americans these days with some quite fantastic notions about the Soviet Union and its European satellites.

Jagan, a dedicated Marxist intellectual who says now he is not a Communist, is a strangely tantalizing figure. Charming, articulate, well versed in American and other history, he has the major attributes of an attractive political personality.

But when he is pressed by curious United States newsmen to apply his obviously sharp intelligence to the nature and workings of Soviet communism, he suddenly pleads lack of information, or stresses limited aspects of the situation.

He made plain, for instance, that he considers traditional imperialist colonialism to mean holding subject territories in a kind of bondage which prevents their industrialization, keeps them primitively agricultural, extracts their raw materials and siphons off their capital.

Aware of Western charges that Moscow's satellites are in truth Soviet colonies, Jagan questions the idea on this main ground:

Most of the captive East European lands have enjoyed substantial industrial advances since World War II. This being so, they cannot be "colonies" as he understands the term.

Let's have a look at one of these satellite nations, tiny Estonia, which has since 1944 been incorporated in the Soviet Union itself.

A survey just released by Estonian exiles in the United States shows that from 1939 to 1959 the little country shifted from a 60-40 agriculture-industry ratio to an 80-20 industry-agriculture setup. By 1959, too, combined farm and factory production had climbed to two and a half times the 1939 level.

Yet, as this change and expansion occurred, who benefited?

Certainly not the poor Estonian, whom Jagan would publicly presume to be the gainer from "industrial advances." For in 1959 the real purchasing power of Estonian wage and salary earners was less than half what it was in 1939.

The explanation, of course, is that Russia has systematically sucked Estonia dry for more than 15 years, diverting huge amounts of the country's output to Russia's own needs as an aggressive world power.

It is well known that this ruthless exploitation has been pursued in every Soviet satellite. Estonia is just one small, glazed tile in the vast Soviet mosaic.

Alert, inquiring free men have long since detected the sinister colonial pattern in that mosaic.

Prime Minister Jagan can see it, too, if he really wants to look.

Space Agency Aids Segregationist

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—An outspoken champion of white supremacy, who bitterly fought the Justice Department's attempts to integrate the New Orleans schools, has been rewarded strangely by another government agency with a juicy $666,471 contract.

He is Martin Gurtler whose firm, Gurtler-Hebert & Co., was selected out of six bidders to convert a New Orleans ordnance plant into a rocket factory. It will produce Saturn rocket engines, the big boosters which are counted upon to carry the American flag to new heights in space.

Gurtler is known at the Justice Department as the author of a vile Christmas letter, marked "personal and confidential," to Lloyd Rittiner, who last year was president of the New Orleans school board.

The letter warned that Rittiner was "bound to get a bloody nose" because of his stand on "the nigger-mixing issue," called the anti-Communist, pro-integrationist Save Our Schools organization a "Communist front," and referred to TV producer David Susskind as "the New York Jew Susskind."

The inflammatory letter fell into the hands of the Justice Department which could find nothing in it that violated federal law. After Gurtler came up with his $666,471 government plum, however, an outraged Attorney General Robert Kennedy shot a copy of the letter to Vice President Lyndon Johnson's Equal Opportunities Committee.

Will Gurtler Integrate?

The committee probably will order Gurtler to hire Negroes for the same jobs as whites, take action against him if he fails to comply. Thus the bitter foe of integration may be forced to integrate his own company or lose his new space plum. It will be interesting to see whether he puts profits ahead of prejudice.

What puzzles and annoys the attorney general is how the National Aeronautics and Space Administration happened to award the contract to Gurtler in the first place.

He was not the lowest bidder; two lower bids were unaccountably ignored. Gurtler was also given a cost-plus deal, high means the $666,471 negotiated price is just the beginning. He can run up the costs into the millions.

In other words, he was served his sugar plum on a silver platter with extra sugar on the side to be added as sweetening if needed.

Louisiana Congressman F. Edward Hebert (no relation to Gurtler's partner, Leonard Hebert) informed this column that the two lower bids were submitted by respected, qualified New Orleans firms: P. Farnsworth, and Quinn Construction, both of which bid at least $50,000 less than Gurtler.

Hebert happens to be chairman of a House subcommittee which polices military contracts but has no jurisdiction over space contracts.

"If I had the jurisdiction," he told this column, "I would have the people who awarded this contract before my committee tomorrow."

Strange Christmas Letter

Gurtler's ugly Christmas letter hinted that Rittiner might suffer economic retaliation for his stand in favor of keeping the New Orleans schools open. Subsequently, the White Citizens Council organized a boycott against Rittiner.

BURLINGTON FREE PRESS Roman Lessons.—In his monumental work, "The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire," Edward Gibbon listed these five reasons for that fall:

(1) The rapid increase of divorce; the undermining of the dignity and sanctity of home, which is the basis of human society.

(2) Higher and higher taxes and the spending of public money for free bread and circuses for the populace.

(3) The mad craze for pleasure, sports, becoming every year more exciting and more brutal.

(4) The building of gigantic armaments when the real enemy was within, the decadence of the people.

(5) The decay of religion; faith fading into mere form, losing touch with life, and becoming impotent to guide the people.

Gibbon's work covers the period of Roman history from A.D. 180 to A.D. 1453. He completed the original six-volume history in 1788. Does his work have lessons for us in 1961?

Ike Asks Good, But Old, Question

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—A week ago former President Eisenhower, complaining about the Kennedy administration's spending, asked "What's going to happen to our country if we can't pay our debts in this time of prosperity?"

It's a good question, but an old one. It's a question Eisenhower must have asked himself at times when he was in the White House, and President Truman before him.

It was prompted by the realization that the Kennedy administration—for the 1962 fiscal year which began last July 1—will be in the red.

President Kennedy confirmed it Sunday by releasing a budget report which showed that for the 1962 fiscal year government expenses will be around $89 billion while income will be about $82.1 billion, making a deficit of $6.9 billion.

He boosted government spending this year and blamed it mainly on the need to shovel out more money for defense, foreign obligations and space development. But the country must be getting used to seeing government spending exceed its revenue.

In the past 31 years government income was greater than its expenses only seven times.

It happened in 1930, in President Hoover's administration; three times in the seven years of Truman's administration; and three times in Eisenhower's eight years.

The country stayed in the red without a break through the 12 years of President Roosevelt, who first had to cope with a depression, then with a gigantic defense buildup and then with the biggest of all wars.

Eisenhower himself—who was swept into office in 1952 partly on the strength of a promise to balance the budget and cut federal spending—in 1959 had the biggest deficit in American peacetime history: $12.4 billion.

Truman, who took over when Roosevelt died in 1945, didn't wind up with a surplus until 1947. He did it again in 1948. He slid into the red once more in 1949 and 1950. He managed a surplus one more time: in fiscal 1951.

Do cats really see in the dark? No, they don't. The "headlight" effect of a cat's eyes is a kind of mirror that catches every available ray of light. So, even though cats can't see in total darkness, they put small amounts of light to good use. As any cat-lover knows, feline prowlers navigate with amazing effectiveness in the dim light of the stars.

But by then the costs of the Korean War engulfed him and economy went out the window.

Eisenhower, despite the optimism of his 1952 campaign talk, didn't achieve a surplus until fiscal 1956. He repeated in fiscal 1957 and 1960. The rest of his

for practical advice on the problems of growing older.

DEAR ARTHUR: When I was in my late teens and early 20s, I had such hopes of being a great person. I wanted to be a nurse who would be known and loved by everyone she served. That seems silly now, doesn't it?

Here I am, an old and wrinkled woman. I started a career in nursing, but had to quit to take care of my sick father. Years later I married, but never had any children. My husband died in 1952 and ever since I've been alone, and lonely, and so sorry that I never did become what I wanted to be.

It's not only that. I feel useless. Nobody needs me and I am so self-sufficient that I don't need anybody else. I don't know what to do. I'm 57.

DEAR FRIEND: You sound as if you were 157. If you were a child, I'd spank you. Not to punish you, but to startle you into your senses. Too old? You're too old to sit around feeling old, lonely, depressed, useless, and sorry for yourself!

It is just as necessary for you to make plans for your own happiness and social usefulness at 57 as it is at 20. As a matter of fact, the initiative to determine your own activities is more completely yours at these ages than during the intervening years. At either age your life expectancy encompasses the length of most normal careers. Therefore, you can and should make long range plans.

It's time to see if you can't go back to nursing school, finish your training, and realize the goal of your lifetime.

DEAR ARTHUR: I'd like very much to give blood to the Red Cross, but I guess I'm too old.

DEAN: I truly admire your desire to donate blood to the Red Cross. When you stop to think about it, blood is the most intimate gift one human being can give to another.

If you are between the ages of 18 and 59, you can make this gift to the Red Cross. Should you be older than 59, you might want to donate your services to the organization as a volunteer.

DEAR GRANDPARENTS: You are certainly justified in leaving your $13,000 estate to your grandson only if he graduates from college. But let him select his own school.

Prepare for Negotiations

JFK Talked Out of Using Tough Words to Soviet

By ROBERT E. HENNESSEE
DP&R Special Service

WASHINGTON—After President Kennedy spoke at Chapel Hill, N.C., recently, there came reports that he had wanted to use the occasion for some tough words to the Soviets, but was talked out of it by "some of his advisors."

This was only half the real story.

According to a top aid to President Kennedy, the chief executive had wanted to utilize the Tar Heel speech to make a major defense of diplomacy's cardinal tool: negotiation.

And realizing he would be attacked, both at home and abroad, notably in France and Germany for his defense of negotiation, he had planned to follow this up in the same speech with some tough language on Soviet behavior.

In the end, he decided against both and contented himself with stressing that if we are true to our mission, we need be neither Red nor dead.

Why the President decided not to go through with his plans isn't clear.

Mr. Kennedy is said to feel he is inhibited in dealing with some of the great problems by a very strong, and unjustified impression among Americans that the Russians will get the best of us at any bargaining table.

He wants to convince Americans, as he is now very adequately doing with the Germans, that we will have to negotiate on some of our differences with the Soviets and that American leadership is perfectly capable of defending and presenting Western rights.

Major negotiations on the Berlin question are coming. The preliminary work, although almost totally failing to spell out what it is that can be negotiated, has been completed by the Gromyko talks with Secretary Rusk and the President himself.

Gromyko now has sounded the call for another meeting of Kennedy and Khrushchev, after calling their first and only meeting, the one at Vienna last spring, one of the most momentous conferences in history.

What Gromyko's reasoning was is known perhaps only to himself. No negotiations were attempted at that time.

Anyway, you can expect the President shortly to begin laying the groundwork for meeting again with the bombastic and unpredictable Mr. Khrushchev.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM YOUR STATE CAPITOL

By RUSSELL A. MANN JR.
Missouri Press News Service

SCHOOL SHOT PROGRAM BEGINS IN MISSOURI

A new statewide program for immunization of school children against diphtheria, polio and smallpox with parental approval is underway in Missouri.

Law establishing the program was passed by the last legislature.

Presently local school officials are surveying classes to determine which pupils have not been immunized. When this information is gathered, next step will be consultations on giving the shots with parents, doctors and state Division of Health officials if need be.

As the program gets underway, Dr. H. M. Hardwicke, director of the state Division of Health, is encouraging an educational campaign designed to show parents the desirability of immunizing their children at a pre-school age.

"The government school immunization program simply is stop-gap," he emphasizes. "Parents should not wait until their children reach school age before seeing to it that their children are immunized since a high percentage of children affected by diphtheria, polio and smallpox are affected at a pre-school age. Parents should take responsibility and initiate a program long before most do."

Dr. Hardwicke estimates that the school immunization program will include about 20 per cent on the average of the state's children, this many whose parents have not had them immunized prior to coming to school.

The program will cost initially about $30,000 a year.

Minimum routine immunizations as set forth in Division of Health rules and regulations required by law are as follows:

1. Diphtheria—Three shots of diphtheria toxoid combined with whooping cough vaccine and tetanus toxoid, or two injections of diphtheria toxoid combined with tetanus toxoid, administered at intervals of about a month or more, followed by a booster shot of diphtheria toxoid, alone or in combination, at least every four years thereafter until the child reaches 11.

2. Polio — For children whose immunization was begun under one year of age, three shots of Salk vaccine, alone or in combination with other vaccines, at intervals of about a month followed by a fourth shot six to twelve months later and a fifth shot one to two years following the fourth.

For children whose immunization was started after age one, three shots of Salk vaccine, the first two about a month apart and the third six to twelve months later, followed by a fourth shot a year or more later.

3. Smallpox — A shot which "takes" after no more than three tries.

For children immunized at pre-school age, as Dr. Hardwicke encourages, satisfactory proof for school records is a statement by the parent or a physician regarding types and dates of immunization. Also, a statement by a physician that shots are underway shall be deemed satisfactory for school records.

Children may be exempted from the program not only by simple parental disapproval but also by a physician who asserts that immunization would seriously endanger the child's health and life.

HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS GET SAFETY PROGRAM

Some 250 Missouri high school pupils are working to set up a traffic safety program in their schools in accordance with recommendations of the Second Annual Youth Traffic Safety Congress held recently at the University of Missouri.

At the congress, delegates were given a seven-point traffic safety program which is to form the backbone of their efforts. A key part of the plan is a student traffic safety committee. Sponsors of the congress envision such a committee in every high school in the state.

Backing local efforts will be the Missouri Safety Council and the State Highway patrol. Another supporter is the Association of Secondary School Principals.

Delegates to the Congress heard reports from high schools about the state on activities of traffic safety committees or groups now established. Discussed were such things as an anti-litterbugging program, student-run vehicle safety checks, student traffic courts, traffic safety assemblies and workshops, and school bus safety programs.

Dr. A. L. Chapman, of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, as principal speaker on the program stressed a need for proper attitudes toward driving by young people. He said many are better drivers than their elders but poor attitudes often lead to trouble.

Robert Longan Is President Of Local Dairy Herd Group

Robert (Bob) Longan of Route 3, Sedalia, was elected president of the reorganized Pettis County Dairy Herd Improvement Association Wednesday evening. The meeting was held in the County Extension office. Others elected were J. W. Risler, vice-president; and Tom Yeater, secretary-treasurer.

Such an association is made up of dairymen who hire a disinterested person to make monthly check ups on their herds. This check up includes weighing one evening's and the next morning's milk from each producing cow in the herd. They also test each sample for butterfat, record all findings in appropriate books, carting new additions to the herd and make feeding and management recommendations.

The association testers will be Mr. and Mrs. Chaney Housworth, 1001 South Harrison. Housworth, who is inseminator for an artificial breeding association, will collect the samples. His wife will test all the samples in a laboratory in their home and will keep the books up to date.

Pettis County maintained an association for many years but had trouble keeping a tester. For the last 10 years an association in Morgan County has tested herds in a five to six county area including Benton, Moniteau, Miller, Cooper, Morgan and Pettis. It is anticipated that this new setup can be quite permanent and that there may soon be a full local association.

Three other dairy men joined the association Wednesday evening and paid their $10 membership fee. They were Wallace Cordes of Route 1, C. L. Turner of Route 4, and C. L. Scott of La Monte.

It is anticipated that facilities will be available to do owner-sampler testing, too, for persons who want to know how their cows are producing but are not interested in official tests. Gerald Volpp who was also at the meeting is interested in that.

Takes Big Investment

Poultry Business Rapidly Expanding Farm Industry

Poultry farming today is a far cry from what it used to be. The industry, as a whole, is rapidly expanding and providing new opportunities for those who are willing to meet the requirements.

The poultry farmer today is making poultry an important part of his farm business. He plans his operation to save time and energy in caring for the flock. He keeps records and knows exactly what it costs to produce a dozen eggs.

The successful poultryman also studies the market trends and produces what the buyer wants. He has a refrigerated egg room for holding eggs until ready for market. This helps preserve quality and makes it possible for him to deliver uniform quality eggs each week.

Basic Requirements

The family must like chickens. They must enjoy working with the flock to give them the attention and care needed. Although poultry is confining to some extent, it doesn't require strenuous labor.

A knowledge of flock management and marketing is essential. It requires keeping up-to-date on happenings in the industry and applying new ideas and practices as they are discovered.

Getting started in the poultry business costs money as is true of any farming business. The amount of capital required for a laying flock varies widely, depending upon the size of operation, type of buildings, kind of equipment and pullet cost. Below is the estimated cost to start a 3,000 bird flock of layers: Brooder-rearing house $3,200 Laying house and

age at $1.50 ..... 4,500

Equipment ..... 4,200

Pullets (22 weeks of

age) at $1.50 ..... 4,500

Total investment ..... $16,400

Flock size is important. Large flocks of 1,500 or more hens make possible many efficiencies in use of labor, mechanical equipment, and refrigeration. With a large volume of eggs to sell, better markets are available. Flock size should be determined by such things as (1) amount of income desired, (2) how it fits with the other farm enterprises, (3) amount of labor available, (4) method of marketing, and (5) ability of the individual to finance or get financing.

Since the investment in a modern poultry operation is fairly large, credit is needed in most cases. Egg producers are financing their laying operations with private money or with loans from Production Credit Association, Farm and Home Administration, banks, or through processors and feed companies.

You may want to consider contract production. In spite of some undesirable features, this way may be the best answer for you. It may be a way to get needed credit to increase your volume and take much of the risk out of the enterprise.

Grass Seeds Into Three Life Classes

By LLOYD LEWELLEN
Associate County Agent

Recently information reached our office on the viability of various seed. Bill Murphy, Extension Field Crop Specialist, has classified the various grasses and legume seeds into three longevity classes.

Class 1 he designates as relatively short-lived seeds. Under class 1 he places orchard grass, red top, reeds canary, sudan grass, timothy, and lespedeza.

Additional Farm News on Page 10

Under good storing conditions these can be held over for seeding the second year. They would need to be checked over carefully as some lots will go bad. It is doubtful that they should be held past the second year.

In Class 2 he places bluegrass, bromegrass, fescue, ryegrass and crimson clover. This class can be held over for the third year. Alfalfa and the other clovers were placed in Class 3. They can be expected to germinate for a period of four years or longer when stored under good conditions.

Storage conditions and other circumstances are so important that the above classifications can be taken only as a general guide. Annual germination tests are important on all seeds that are held over.

Corn and small grains would probably be placed in Class 2. Germination is so slow the third year that from a practical standpoint they probably should not be held over past the second year.

Rye is an exception among the small grains. It should never be held over past the first year unless a germination test is run. Soybeans would go in Class 1.

Will Fight to Halt Change In Jordan

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Official sources said Sunday that Syrian troops along the 70-mile Syrian-Israeli frontier are prepared to "repel any Israeli attempt to change the course of the River Jordan."

The sources said that since Syria broke away from Egypt in the United Arab Republic last month, the Syrian regime is "more determined to restore the rights of Arab Palestinians and bar any Israeli attempt to divert the course of the Jordan" for irrigation purposes.

Outlook for Five Years

Farm Management Queries Aid In Planning Research

What are some of the most important farm management questions farm operators must answer today in order to be successful? Will these questions differ in the next five years?

The farm management staff at the Missouri College of Agriculture believes that one of the best ways to find out what some of these questions are is to ask these people actually making decisions in agriculture.

This spring a questionnaire was prepared and sent to many farmers and persons working with farmers throughout the state. The questionnaire included such questions as: "What are the most important farm management questions farm operators must answer? How will these questions differ in the next five years?" Suggestions were also asked for in farm management research, teaching and Extension that would help to provide up to date information to help answer these questions.

This questionnaire was sent to farmers, farm managers, and credit representatives. Many vocational agriculture teachers, farm editors and Extension staff members were also asked to complete the questionnaire.

The questions were summarized in areas such as organization of farm business, technology, credit, machinery, records, leasing, marketing and policy.

Some of the typical questions listed as these that farmers must answer in operation of their business included: "What size of operation (livestock, machinery and crop land) is needed in various areas of Missouri to make a good living? What size of operation do I need before I should invest in feeding, processing and material handling equipment? What is the minimum size of unit to approach lowest unit cost of production in all major livestock enterprises in Missouri? How much can I afford to invest in land, buildings and labor saving equipment? How to establish and maintain a line of credit to meet changing farm and economic conditions? What kind of record keeping system must I use to know all my costs and net income? In what kind of crops and livestock will Missouri be outstanding during the next five years?

These are only a few but are typical questions brought out in the questionnaire.

You might be wondering what use is to be made of the suggestions received.

These questions right now are

ARE YOUR DEBTS IN BALANCE?

Many farmers have their short-term debts completely out-of-balance with their long-term obligations. Good farm management requires that operating or short-term credit be kept in balance with capital or long-term credit. Proper balance enables orderly retirement of all obligations without repayment being a burden.

Thousands of farmers have found that a LAND BANK LOAN provides the key to a balanced debt load. It could well be the answer to your credit problem.

Offense Against Defense

Colorado, Missouri Seek Bowl Berth Next Saturday

By SKIPPER PATRICK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Big Eight's two undefeated football teams, Colorado and Missouri, meet next Saturday with the winner taking over as a favorite for an Orange Bowl berth.

Colorado, 4-0 in the league after beating Oklahoma 22-14, and Missouri, 3-0 with its 10-0 victory over Nebraska, will play in Boulder, Colo. The game will match a fine offense against an exceptionally strong defense.

The Rocky Mountain team, ranked 10th by the AP last week, also has a victory over Miami (Fla.) for a 5-0 season record. Missouri has beaten Washington State and Minnesota and tied California for a 5-0-1 mark.

The Kansas Jayhawks, who hit their peak in blasting Oklahoma State 42-8, will have more than a casual interest in what goes on at Boulder. The Jayhawks are 3-1 in the league, beaten only by Colorado, and appear headed for another blistering finish.

The great John Hadl had one of his better days against Oklahoma State, scoring one touchdown, passing for two, getting off a 94-yard punt that rolled into the end zone, and in general torturing the Cowboys.

Kansas' foe Saturday will be Nebraska in Lincoln, Neb., and that one shouldn't cause the Jayhawks too much trouble.

Oklahoma, former king of midlands football and a long-time national power, plays Kansas State in Manhattan, Kan., and the Sooners will be favored to break into the winner's column after a record five-game losing streak.

Iowa State goes to Boston College after socking K-State 31-7 with Dave (Hoppy) Hoppmann gaining 271 yards in 25 rushes, including touchdown sprints of 71 and 69 yards. He also threw a scoring pass to end Larry Monte.

Oklahoma State will go out of the league for a meeting with old-time foe Wichita, Missouri Valley Conference champs, in Wichita.

Big Eight Little Bits: Sports Editor Bob Broeg of the St. Louis Post Dispatch quotes the guy who says: "Missouri probably is the worst undefeated team in the country, only the kids don't know it." Only the exceptional defensive work headed by tackles Ed Blaine, Bucky Wegner and Jerry Wallace and a quartet of good guards have kept the Tigers undefeated. But the Tiger backfield corps of "unavailable" continues to grow and Colorado will be a solid favorite to win this week. Vince Turner, Tiger sophomore who led rushers with 69 yards on 9 totes, had only two minutes of playing time, all on defense before the OSU game.

OUCH DEPT.—All Star time coming up shortly and how about those guards and backs? Joe Romig, Colorado; Dan Celoni, Iowa State; Paul Henley, Missouri; Elvin Basham, Kansas, etc. Hadl and Hoppmann are undoubtedly the best backs in the league although Nebraska people will argue Bill (Thunder) Thornton is as good as either.

The 200-pound junior from Toledo, Ohio, is a quick starter, a powerful runner playing behind a sluggish line. A good number of very capable backs have been extra slow getting started. Among the good fullbacks are

Tulsa Unable To Forget Bill Siegel

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wichita's Bill Siegel is a man Tulsa isn't likely to forget for a long time.

Siegel, a 212-pound tackle from Sharon Springs, Kan., kicked a 39-yard field goal in the last quarter to give the Shockers a come-from-behind 9-7 victory over Tulsa and a second straight Missouri Valley Conference football title Saturday.

Siegel, a year ago, enabled Wichita to beat Tulsa 21-20. He kicked three conversions in that one.

Last Saturday's game was played in 35-mile-per-winds with gusts up to 48 miles.

Tulsa's Art Nece, a fine place kicker, missed four field goal tries, the last one blocked by Wichita's Leroy Leep as the game ended.

The Cincinnati Bearcats defeated North Texas State in a mid upset 21-9 in other Valley action Saturday. Phil Goldner ran 53 yards to score on a pass interception for the clincher.

Bobby Smith, North Texas back, took over the league rushing lead with 89 yards in 18 carries for a total of 369 yards in six games. That's a 61.5 average, one-tenth of a yard better than teammate Billy Christie.

Tulsa, 0-2 in the conference, and Cincinnati, 1-1, complete family business at Cincinnati Saturday. A Tulsa victory would put the Hurricane, Cincinnati and North Texas in a tie for second, third and fourth places in the four-team football league.

Wichita continues this week against Oklahoma State in Wichita. North Texas takes on Drake in Denton, Tex.

Drake and Bradley, Valley members who do not play for the football title, met in Des Moines last Saturday. Drake winning 24-13.

Garden State Stake World's Richest Race

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

And now comes the world's richest horse race—the $300,000 Garden State Stake for 2-year-olds at Garden State Park on Saturday, with an estimated $175,000 for the winner.

This golden gallop over 1 1/16 miles in recent years has pinpointed the colts most likely to star in the glamorous races for 3-year-olds, the Flamingo, Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont. This year promises to be no exception, although several outstanding juveniles, such as Jaipur and Sir Gaylord, have been retired for the season.

Donut King, Verne Winchell's California cannonball who surprised by winning the Champagne over Jaipur and Sir Gaylord, appears the likely favorite.

The son of Determine-Strayed easily won his half of the split Garden State Trial last Saturday.

He beat Obe by 9 lengths in 1:44 4/5. Crimson Satan, fourth to Donut King in the Champagne, also breezed home in his half of the Trial, winning by seven lengths over Pinsetter in 1:44 1/5. Donut King paid $5.80 and Crimson Satan $4.20.

It was in the Garden State a year ago that Carry Back hit the jackpot and started on the road that led to victory in the 1961 Kentucky Derby and the Preakness. He hit the headlines again at the Camden, N.J. track Saturday by winning the $75,000-added Trenton handicap.

Going into the Trenton, Carry Back had lost three straight races. But he showed his patented come-from-behind form in beating Intentionally by half a length. Bill Hartack, up on third-place Ambio, poise, claimed a foul against Johnny Sellers on Carry Back, but it was not allowed.

"How's that for a sore horse?" said trainer-breeder Jack Price after Carry Back had run the mile and one-quarter in 2:03 and boosted his career earnings to $851,648 with the $35,055 first prize. He paid $8 as a lukewarm 3-1 favorite.

The $50,000-added Ladies Handicap over a testing 1 1/16 miles at Aqueduct went to Andy Crevolin's Mighty Fair. The 3-year-old filly put on a late surge in the stretch and beat the favored Craftiness by a length. She paid $12.20 as third choice.

Miss Eleonora Sears registered the first stakes victory in her career as an owner when her 2-year-old Tudoka won the Jeanne D'Arc at Narragansett. Tudoka went off at 15-1 and paid $32.40.

In Saturday's other headlines: Our Son Don, the $5.40 last minute favorite, won the Maryland Futurity at Laurel; Royal Attack ($4.40) won the Durante Stakes at Bay Meadows and may have earned a trip east for the Garden State; Spicy ($5) won the Little-town Handicap at Sportsman's Park and Aerofit ($12.60) took the Autumn Handicap at Churchill Downs.

Alabama, which leads the SEC with a 4-0 mark, and is 2-0 overall, is expected to hang on to its lead against Mississippi State. The Crimson Tide had some difficulty beating Houston 17-0.

Colorado can pretty well all down the Big Eight title if it beats Missouri. The Buffaloes are 4-0 in the conference after beating winless Oklahoma 22-14 while Missouri, defending champ, is 3-0 after its 10-0 dumping of Nebraska.

Notre Dame, one of many which fell before the upset sythe, may be in trouble again this week against Navy, another upset victim. The Irish lost their second after three straight victories, 12-10 to Northwestern, while the Middles, who had won four in a row after one loss, were surprised by Pitt 28-14.

Texas (6-0) is expected to get its fourth win in the Southwest Conference against Southern Methodist after easily disposing of title contender Rice 34-7. Georgia Tech continues to pursue the leaders in the SEC, beating Tulane 35-0, and now meets rebounding Florida.

Elsewhere, Princeton is all alone in the Ivy League following its 30-25 victory over Cornell and Dartmouth's upset by Harvard. The Tigers take on winless Brown this week. The Citadel can wrap up the Southern Conference crown

An Acid Test

Moment of Truth Will Be Saturday

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Call it the moment of truth, or whatever, but Michigan State, the nation's No. 1 college football team, and bridesmaid Mississippi are each going to meet a team that will put them to the acid test this Saturday.

And so will Ohio State, Colorado and Notre Dame, three others in the select circle that shook from the chain reaction of upsets last Saturday.

Mississippi, whose unbeaten string has reached 21, meets its sternest competition of the year when Louisiana State plays host at Baton Rouge. The last game Ole Miss lost was to the Bayou Bengals, 7-3, in 1959. All-America Billy Cannon broke it up for LSU with a punt return for a touchdown in the second half.

LSU spoiled a perfect season for the Rebels last year with a 6-6 tie that Mississippi had to scramble to get on the field goal kicking of Allan Green.

Now the Rebels are 6-0 this season, 3-0 in the Southeastern Conference and coveting a national championship. LSU has lost only to Rice and is also 3-0 in the SEC. Both warmed up to this week's task over the weekend. Ole Miss clobbered Vanderbilt 47-0 and LSU killed Florida's SEC chances 23-0.

Michigan State, which hasn't allowed a point in Big Ten competition while running up a 3-0 mark, takes on powerful Minnesota, a Big Ten national champ and co.

Big Ten leader. The Gophers, who beat Michigan 23-20 for the Little Brown Jug last Saturday, have won four in a row after a 6-0 loss to Missouri. The Spartans, 35-0 victors over Indiana, are 6-0 over-all, and have beaten Michigan and Notre Dame in other severe tests.

This Big Ten game, matching teams with identical 3-0 marks, plus Ohio State's encounter with Iowa, will clear some of the haze atop the standings. Ohio State is also 3-0 after beating Wisconsin 30-21 while Iowa now is 2-1, after being upset 9-0 by Purdue.

Alabama, which leads the SEC with a 4-0 mark, and is 2-0 overall, is expected to hang on to its lead against Mississippi State. The Crimson Tide had some difficulty beating Houston 17-0.

Colorado can pretty well all down the Big Eight title if it beats Missouri. The Buffaloes are 4-0 in the conference after beating winless Oklahoma 22-14 while Missouri, defending champ, is 3-0 after its 10-0 dumping of Nebraska.

Notre Dame, one of many which fell before the upset sythe, may be in trouble again this week against Navy, another upset victim. The Irish lost their second after three straight victories, 12-10 to Northwestern, while the Middles, who had won four in a row after one loss, were surprised by Pitt 28-14.

Jurgensen Guides Eastern Champs to Top of Ladder

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sonny Jurgensen, who collected splinters and experience while Norm Van Brocklin was directing the Philadelphia Eagles, has stepped in to guide the defending National Football League champions to the top of the Eastern Conference.

The 27-year-old former Duke standout passed the Eagles into sole possession of first place in the East Sunday with a three-touchdown performance—the last a 41-yard heave to Tommy McDonald with 16 seconds remaining to beat the upstart Washington Redskins 27-24.

The TD toss to McDonald was Jurgensen's 14th of the season—top mark in the league—and gave the defending titlists a 6-1 record and a one-game edge over New York and Cleveland at the halfway mark of the expanded 14-game schedule.

The Giants dropped out of a first-place tie when Dallas' Allen Green kicked a 32-yard field goal with 1:23 remaining for a 17-16 Cowboy victory, and the Browns moved up by beating the St. Louis Cardinals 21-10.

In the Western Conference, Green Bay kept rolling with a 28-10 thumping of Minnesota for its sixth consecutive victory since an opening game loss and maintained a one-game lead over the Chicago Bears, 21-20 conquerors of the Baltimore Colts. San Francisco fell back, losing to Pittsburgh 20-10. Detroit whipped Los Angeles 28-10.

Jurgensen started the Eagles' desperation drive with 50 seconds remaining after the hapless Redskins, who list their seventh in succession and 15th over a two-season span, had taken the lead on a seven-yard flip from rookie Norm Snead to first-year fullback Jim Cunningham.

The Eagles began from their own 20 after the kickoff with Jurgensen firing 19 and 20 yard strikes to Bobby Walston, missing once, then arching the clincher to the speedy McDonald.

Green's winning field goal against the Giants (5-2) came after New York had come from behind to take a 16-14 lead on a five-yard touchdown pass from rookie halfback Bob Gaiters to Kyle Rote and Pat Summerall's three field goals. Eddie LeBaron had fired TD passes of 14 and 14 yards to Frank Clarke and Dick Bielski as the Cowboys (4-3) built a 14-0 lead.

The Browns (5-1) struck for two touchdowns within 35 seconds in the first quarter, Bobby Franklin racing 19 yards on a fake field goal attempt and Milt Plum hitting Ray Renfro with a 12-yard pass after the Cards (3-4) fumbled the kickoff. Army-bound Bobby Mitchell, playing in his last game, rambled 56 yards for another Cleveland score.

Paul Hornung, who gets a physical today to determine his fitness for the Army, scored on a one-yard plunge, passed 10 yards to Ron Kramer for another touchdown and kicked four conversions as the Packers belted the Vikings (1-6). Hornung, the league's scoring leader, now has 102 points.

A pass interference moved the Bears (5-2) to the 17 in the fourth quarter against the Colts (3-4).

Blanda fired off the discard as soon as he became head man of the Oilers.

Today Boston is tied with New York for the lead in the Eastern Division of the AFL while Houston is in third place, just a half-game back. Houston hasn't played as many games as Boston.

New York stayed deadlocked for the lead with a 14-6 victory over Oakland. It was the first time in 21 games that Al Dorow didn't pass for a touchdown but Bill Mathis took up the slack—he made two running.

The Western Division of the league has reached that ho-hum stage. San Diego refuses to lose a game or give anybody any hope of winning one. The talented Chargers ripped Denver 37-0 Sunday for their eighth straight victory and a 4 1/2 game lead over Dallas, the runner-up in the division.

It will be divisional leaders meeting each other in the feature game next weekend as New York visits San Diego. Oakland will be at Buffalo and Houston at Denver in other Sunday games. Friday night Dallas goes to Boston.

Canadiens Threatening A Runaway

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Montreal's talented Canadiens, who have led the National Hockey League for four straight seasons, are threatening to make it a runaway for their fifth consecutive regular season championship.

Toe Blake's perennial champions have seven victories and a tie, are averaging better than five goals a game and haven't run off from the rest of the league only because New York has come up with a surprising start.

The Rangers, who had been slipping a bit during the last week got Gump Worsley back in the net Sunday night and came up with a 4-2 verdict over Toronto.

That left the Rangers, who have played three more games than Montreal, three points back of the Canadiens. Montreal remained unbeaten with a 6-3 triumph over Detroit. Chicago rallied for a 2-2 tie at Boston, the fifth tie in nine games for the Black Hawks.

The Canadiens, who beat Detroit 7-5 in Montreal Saturday, completed the sweep of the two-game set on Red Wing ice, erupting for four goals in the second period. That gave them a 5-2 edge that was just too much to overcome.

Billy Hicke had a pair of goals, and Claude Provost, Henri Richard and Gilles Tremblay one each. Vic Stasiuk and Allan Johnson did the Detroit scoring.

Ranger goalie Worsley returned to action after a week's layoff to recover from a concussion suffered in Detroit. The Rangers hadn't won since, but celebrated his return with one of their better efforts.

Ted Hampson, Dean Prentice, Andy Hebertson and Andy Bathgate did the New York scoring, John MacMillan and Red Kelly scored for Toronto.

Boston's Doug Mohns lifted in a 15-footer to give the Bruins a 2-1 lead with only two minutes remaining. It looked like the winner until Murray Balfour deflected Elmer Vasko's shot for the tying goal.

Bobby Hull got Chicago's first marker, matched later by Don McKenney.

Many Babies Spanked By Old Doctor

DANVILLE, Ky. (AP)—It was 50 years and 5,000 babies ago today that Dr. H. L. Gragg started practicing medicine in Boyle County.

That is a part of his reason for celebration today. It also is his 77th birthday.

Until four years ago, Dr. Gragg lived next door to his office. That meant he got calls 24 hours a day. Then he moved to a farm at the edge of town.

"We moved away to get away from so much night work," his wife explains. "But it is just about as bad as ever."

"When he leaves (for his office) after supper, he says, 'See you about midnight' and I always say, 'Not me, you won't. I'll be asleep!'"

The farm is a small one with just a few cows, a little tobacco and a little corn. Dr. Gragg explains. Its main attraction is that there is no telephone there.

In his half century of work, he has traveled to his patients in his car, in a buggy, on horse or mule back and on foot.

"Even a buggy sometimes couldn't make it over the rough country," Dr. Gragg said. "So I pretty much relied on a horse or even a mule."

There have been a lot of difficulties, but a frozen car may have been the worst of all, he recalls.

It was midnight one February 27 years ago and the temperature was below zero. Since there was no bridge over a creek, he tried to ford it in his auto. The car froze and wouldn't move.

A neighbor loaned his mule. With both the car and Dr. Gragg, Tommy Walker, the first of 11 Walker children delivered by Dr. Gragg, entered the world.

The doctor doesn't deliver many babies anymore. He says he has delivered "more than 5,000—don't know exactly how many."

Wild Priest Depicted In CBS Special

NEW YORK (AP) — "It doesn't matter that I am a coward and a drunkard" explained the priest to his captor, "I can put God in a man's mouth just the same. It wouldn't matter if every man in the church was as bad as me."

Thus, after almost two hours of dramatizing a theme, did author Graham Greene state the premise on which "The Power and the Glory" was built. The adaptation of the religious novel was presented as a special Sunday night on CBS.

It was a powerful, slow-moving tragedy with Lawrence Olivier proving once again his superb talents as he played an alcoholic—a "whisky priest" who had fathered a child.

The plot was set in a Latin American state with an anticlerical regime in power. The weak yet devout priest—the only surviving father—was being hunted down.

Because he believed he was the only man left in his state who could hear confession and perform church rites, the priest refused to leave and even permitted five persons to be shot as hostages because he was still free.

It was a brutal, adult and certainly controversial drama. It was a fine, thought-provoking show. Olivier was powerful and convincing.

So were all the other performers in the large cast, particularly George C. Scott, playing the police lieutenant hunting down the priest. Scott was able to bring humanity—even sympathy—to the ruthless and efficient character.

Performers like Julie Harris, Keenan Wynn and Martin Gabel had small but choice character roles.

Earlier, NBC showed the first of a new series, this one called "The World of Bob Hope."

By means of the now familiar documentary method—old film clips, home movies, family album photographs and some specially filmed material—the hour show covered Hope's life, particularly the past 40 years in show business, in peace and especially in war.

It was a leisurely and interesting treatment, with an unobtrusive but witty musical score, based mostly on Hope's familiar theme song, "Thanks for the Memory."

The narration, by the mellow-voiced Alexander Scourby, was not particularly incisive—pretty flowery, in fact—but samplings of Hope's jokes and wisecracks kept things from getting too saccharine.

CBS' "Twentieth Century" had its season premiere Sunday night with a once-over-lightly look at Hungary today, five years after the revolt.

The camera crews obviously were restricted, and the program had another problem finding people willing to talk who could talk English. But they got enough to make the point—Hungary today is a prison.

Ann Landers Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a teenager who wants to make a success of my life. I think you can help me by explaining a few things.

I hear a great many adults talk about us teenagers in generalities, as if you could lump us all together and hang a label on us. I feel this is unfair.

All teenagers are not reckless drivers, speed demons and make-outs. Some of us are serious students, reasonably well behaved, and we want to make the world a better place.

But how do we do it? I once wrote to you for advice and you stressed the importance of each individual doing as well as he can with himself. You said "Make YOU your central project. Strive toward maturity." I must confess that I don't know what maturity is. If you can explain this one word to me, Ann, it may unlock other mysteries. Please try.

HOPE FOR TOMORROW Dear Hope: Maturity is many things.

Service Industry Tie-Up With Manufacturers Sought

Editor's Note — Manufacturers are getting friendly with the service business. It's profitable and often promotes sales of their own goods. In this, last of three articles on the service industries, Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, also tells how such a tie-in is good for the host communities.

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Many manufacturers wish you'd spend more of your income on their goods. But many others see in the service industries that are getting an ever larger share of your spending money a good market for their own wares.

And an increasing number of manufacturers and producers are getting into the service business themselves, either to share in the wealth or because of a connection between their goods and services. Sometimes the connection seems way out—like Montgomery Ward and Sears, Roebuck mail order and retail chains offering package travel tours. Sometimes the connection is obvious—like General Motors and Ford subsidiaries financing dealer sales of autos on the installment plan. Sometimes it's a wedding of convenience—like that between makers of consumer goods that sell on the installment plan and insurers of the debtor's life.

Often manufacturers get involved in the service industries as the best way to promote use of their products. Appliance makers have been making a good thing out of laundry and dry cleaning centers, some by furnishing the machines for independent service firms, some by setting up their own chains of coin-operated devices for the serve-yourself minded.

Standard, Inc., Little Rock, Ark., began selling dry cleaning machines nearly two years ago. Norge has several thousand in operation. ALD, Inc., distributes Westinghouse machines. Philco is starting its own chain. Whirlpool is putting dry cleaning machines in some American Oil Co. service stations.

Fast growing recreation industry has put manufacturers of sporting equipment knee deep in the promotion of such things as bowling alleys, skiing and other resorts, company-sponsored amateur teams and leagues of all sorts. Cosmetic makers set up their own beauty salons and chains and health ranches — some with a celebrity clientele.

Electronic companies, like International Business Machines, Remington Rand and General Electric, find the services offered smaller companies by computer centers is good business, as well as that from large companies that can buy or rent the big machines full time.

Makers of trucks and all sorts of factory equipment have found doing business with leasing companies, independent or subsidiary, to their advantage. Rapid expansion of the school-age population, a bonanza for publishers of text books, has put some makers of school supplies in the service business. Some 32,000 vending machines now service schools in 33 states with notebooks, pens, typing paper and the like.

The increase in leisure time—whether at home or on the road—is attracting more business attention. To that end, Leisure Devices, Inc., is being set up for research, development, manufacture and distribution of labor and time saving products.

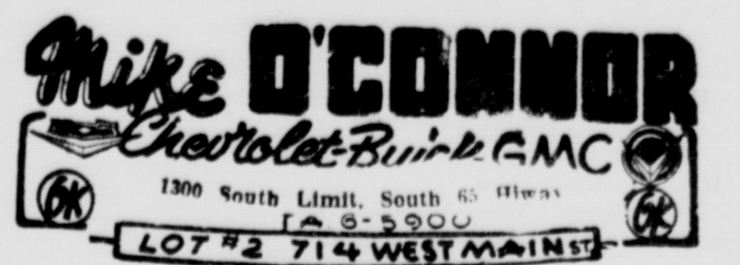

The company's aim is "To increase leisure by reducing radically the amount of time consumers as well as industry now must spend on mundane, nongratifying tasks."

Pettis County's Dairy Herd Improvement Association was reorganized last Wednesday night with Bob Longan as the new president. J. W. Rissler is vice-president, Tom Yeater secretary-treasurer and Mr. and Mrs. Chaney Housworth will do the testing.

Complete details of the reorganization and present membership is available in a story elsewhere on this page. They do anticipate being ready to test by the middle of the month.

Sheep Day November 16

The Annual Sheep Day is scheduled at the University for Thursday, Nov. 16. I will be unable to attend as I must help with a Kiwanis Club program that day. However I would be glad to get folks together to pool transportation if they will let me know that they are interested in attending.

The program starts at 9 o'clock, with registration and with the actual meeting starting at 9:30. Reports include "What We've Learned About Wintering Ewes," "It May Be Better Not to Pasture Early Lambs," "Let's Take Another Look at Protein and Energy Requirements for Fattening Lambs," and "Physical Form of Corn Affects Lamb Feeding Results." Other reports are "Rams, Sterility Studies," "Can You Improve Ram Fertility?" "Seeing Rams Through Their Progeny," and "Carass and Tissue Studies of Lambs."

Lunch will be served by the Block and Bridle Club in the Livestock Pavilion where the meeting is being held. The afternoon program will be in Room 201 of the Student Union.

The afternoon program will include a report on "Make It Yourself With Wool" projects by Mrs. V. B. Vandiver and the "State Sheep program in Nebraska" by Ted Doane, Extension Animal Husbandry specialist from the University of Nebraska. The new state law on "sheep scabies" will be discussed by Dr. L. A. Rosner, State Veterinarian. The final number on the program is a discussion of pros and cons of the formation of a state sheep association. The program is scheduled to be over around 3 o'clock.

Tree Planting Stock Available

We now have the order blanks for ordering trees and shrubs from the Missouri Conservation Commission. Plants available include pine for windbreaks and Christmas tree plantations, black locust for erosion control and fences, black walnut seedlings and stratified walnut seeds for replanting purposes, multiflora rose for fences and wildlife protection and three different types of bundles for around ponds, for quail cover and also an odd area bundle.

Prices are just to cover costs of production and range from $15 per 1000 for the Scotch pine for Christmas trees to $10 per 1000 for the black walnut seedlings to $5 per 1000 of the multiflora rose. The pond bundle is $6, the quail, rabbit food and cover bundle $2 and the odd area bundle $4.

Checks must accompany orders so normally it is necessary for those making orders to stop by the Extension office. Of course you could call in the order, find out the amount and mail us a check. Delivery is usually made by truck to the Extension office about the last of March.

Careers in Agriculture and Correspondence Courses

We have just received two circulars at the Extension office. One is entitled Careers in Modern Agriculture and the other the University of Missouri bulletin regarding correspondence courses of University projects. I mentioned that we had them over the radio Wednesday morning and we had three youngsters inquiring about them during the day. Careers in Agriculture goes into detail regarding a number of careers. These include agriculture business, agriculture chemistry, agriculture economics, agriculture engineering, extension service, agriculture journalism, animal husbandry, dairy science, entomology, farming, field crops, fisheries and wildlife conservation, floriculture, food processing and technology, general agriculture, horticulture, landscape design and nursery management, poultry science, rural sociology, soils, vocational agricultural education, forestry, wood products merchandising and veterinary medicine.

The book on correspondence courses gives costs, tells how to enroll, etc. As I understand it they also have correspondence courses for high school youngsters who need an extra course to graduate in a certain year.

The University courses on which we have information include accounting and statistics, agriculture, business management, classical languages, economics, education, English, French and Italian, geography, German, history, journalism, mathematics, microbiology, mythology, philosophy, physical education, physics, political science, psychology, religion, rural sociology, sociology, Spanish and Portuguese and speech.

Since the Extension service is now a direct part of the University, all exams on University correspondence courses must be taken at the County Extension office. The procedure is to let the Extension office know when you want to take the exam and ask the University to send the exam papers to the Extension office so we may have them ready for you to take the exam at that time.

National Swine Conference November 9 and 10

The Fourth National Swine Industry Conference is being held at St. Louis this year. The dates are Thursday, Nov. 9, and Friday, Nov. 10.

This is a conference of representatives from all segments of the swine industry — producers, farm organizations, feed manufacturers, veterinarians, equipment manufacturers, marketing agencies, meat packers, retailers, research and educational organizations and the agricultural press. The conference is open to anyone who is interested.

There is an $11 registration fee which will include payment for luncheon and dinner on Nov. 9. Your reservation should be mailed by Nov. 1.

The conference is in the Statler-Hilton Hotel with registration starting at 8 o'clock Thursday morning, Nov. 9, and the first general session in the ballroom at 9:30. It is over at 11:45 on Friday, Nov. 10. We do have a couple copies of the programs if anyone is interested in looking them over.

Cattle On Feed

The Oct. 1 report of cattle and calves on feed shows that Missouri has 99 per cent as many cattle on feed as of Oct. 1 as they had a year ago. However a report of the 26 major feeding states shows a 108 per cent of a year ago.

Cattle or calves on feed are animals being fattened for the slaughter market on grain or other concentrates which are expected to produce a carcass that will grade good or better.

Do You Know Your Credit Costs

We have a little card at the Extension office with the above title. Usually the credit charges expressed to you when you purchase something "on time" do not tell the complete story. Your credit charge might include interest, service fee, and filling of carrying charges. This card gives you a formula to find your actual rate on an annual basis.

Usually interest will figure nearly twice the expressed rate. For example if interest is added to installments and the total repaid in 12 equal monthly payments, it will figure as follows:

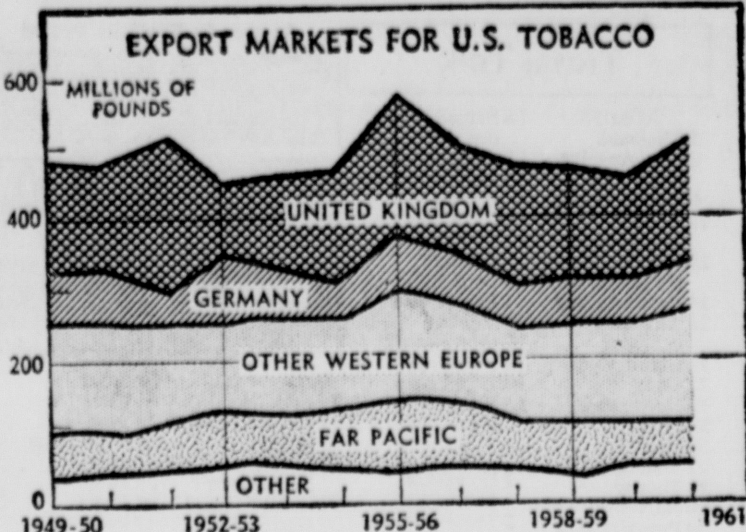

When the contract rate is 4 per cent per year you pay an annual interest rate of 7.4 per cent. At 8 per cent per year you pay 14.8 per cent and at 1 per cent per month you pay 22.2 per cent. As an extreme example if charged only on unpaid balance and your interest charges were 2½ per cent per month, your annual interest is 30 per cent.

Shop for credit. Be smart. Get yours at the lowest possible rate of interest for the period of time that fits your income. These little cards are available at the Extension office.

Turkeys A Good Buy

Fresh frozen turkeys continue to be a good buy. Besides laying one away for Thanksgiving you can have them cut in halves or quarters for every day eating.

There appear to be some shifts in turkey production intentions for the year ahead. Turkey breeder flock owners in 15 of the most important states expect to hold about the same number of heavy TOBACCO'S ROAD—Sales of American tobacco abroad show fairly even pattern, with peak year in 1955-56. Largest buyer is Britain, which in the past five years has taken 32 per cent. Exports in the fiscal year June, 1960 to July 1961, were 504 million pounds. Total in 1961-62 is expected to be a little lower. Data: Department of Agriculture.

Heed Own Advice

Military Doing Something About Providing Shelters

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department, now custodian of the civil defense fallout shelter program, has decided the military should do something about providing protection for its own people.

Headquarters of the Strategic Air Command near Omaha, Neb., is underground, protected against bomb blast as well as fallout.

The "Alternate Pentagon," located in a cavern under a mountain near the Maryland-Pennsylvania border, is a stout, fallout-protected place. The Pentagon itself, with a daily population of about 27,000, has a command post located in a sub-basement, but not constructed with any particular guarantee against radioactive contamination. There is another alternate headquarters not far from Washington with fallout shelter features.

The underground sites at which intercontinental ballistic missiles are located have fallout protection features.

A few operational command headquarters for the services in the field have shelters.

But in each case, these shelters are for the specific purpose of protecting a few individuals who must make decisions, transmit commands or fire weapons.

Federal leadership will be enhanced, Gilpatrick said, by "concrete and visible steps by the military establishment to provide protection for civilian employees, dependents and military personnel located in the United States."

A Defense Department directive issued in July, 1960, says that in reference to government-owned or government-sponsored housing that "fallout protection should be provided military and civilian personnel and their dependents in both new and existing construction."

Elsewhere, the 1960 statement of policy declares that: "The nation is not defended in fact by all readily available means of defense if civil defense measures are inadequate or neglected" and that "the vulnerability of our civil defense structure impairs the capabilities of existing military forces to serve their intended purposes."

However, the military's program hasn't gone much beyond the issuing of the policy statement more than a year ago and the new, prodding memorandum by Gilpatrick.

A few posts, camps and stations have begun an attempt to provide shelter space for military and civilian personnel, and courses on radiation safety procedure are being taught. There is no money in the current fiscal 1962 budget for such shelters.

Gilpatrick himself has built two fallout shelters, one at his home here, another at a summer home. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara hasn't built a shelter because, as he explains, he lives in a rented home here on which the lease expires next January. Adam Yarmolinsky, McNamara's special assistant in charge of civil defense, is building a shelter.

The few really big radiation-breed hens but 24 per cent less light breed hens at the beginning of 1962 than retained the year earlier. Compared to the 1961 season, turkey breeders plan to have 18 per cent more heavy white breed hens but 8 per cent less bronze and other heavies. Most of this 18 per cent increase in heavy whites comes from the state of California where they indicate an intention to retain 90 per cent more heavy white breeder hens than the past year.

The most important states in the population of light breed hens, Virginia and Minnesota, expect to reduce holdings of lights by 25 and 15 per cent, respectively.

Forage Testing Program Begun By University

A forage testing program has been started by the University of Missouri College of Agriculture and Extension Service.

This service will provide dairy-men and cattle producers with a chemical analysis of their livestock feeds, both forage and grain. A committee of University faculty members laid out the plans for the testing procedure. The committee included livestock and dairy specialists, and agricultural chemists.

Forage testing can help farmers do a better job of livestock feeding at lower cost, according to George Garner, agricultural chemist and committee member. For example, he said one dairyman, after having his hay and silage tested, was able to adjust his ration to feed more hay and less concentrate. He figured he saved $45 a week without hurting milk production from his 60-cow herd.

Garner said forage testing is also helpful in showing the changes in feeding value of forages harvested by different methods and at various stages of maturity.

This year the College of Agriculture will test forages at cost. A protein test will cost $1.50; a fiber-protein combination, $3.50. To encourage a farmer to take a complete feed inventory, a special price of $10 will cover costs on one silage sample, two hay samples, and one grain sample.

County extension agents have information forms and containers for samples. Agents also have information on how to take samples. It's important that samples be taken carefully so that they accurately reflect the total feed supply.

Chemical analysis of roughages will give crude fiber, crude protein, digestible protein, and total digestive nutrients (or net energy). Grain will be analyzed for protein.

Washington PTA Hears Talk On Civil Defense

The Washington PTA met Thursday in the school auditorium with the first vice president, Mrs. Kenneth Steele, presiding in the absence of the president.

Following the reading of the minutes, the secretary read the resignation of the third vice president, Mrs. Harlan Smith.

Mrs. Kenneth Steele gave a report on the Golden Jubilee which Mrs. Ed Baker, Mrs. Loren Miner and Mrs. Kenneth Steele attended the past week.

It was announced that the chili supper tickets are to be picked up by the parents to be sold. Mrs. Howard Gwinn and Mrs. Shelby Ochirka in charge. The supper will be Nov. 10.

There will be a parent and family life covered dish to be held Nov. 2 at the Wesley Methodist Church.

The devotional was given by the Rev. R. E. Schwartz of WAFB, who spoke on "Living a Full Life."

The theme for the month was "Building for Safety." Mrs. William Hyatt gave report on bicycle safety. She explained to the group that Mrs. Dale Sand had a bicycle check this past week. Mrs. Hyatt then introduced the speaker for the evening, Jack Delph, who spoke on Civil Defense. He also showed an interesting film on "Why Family Action." A question and answer period followed.
